

GOLF WITH A GOLDEN TOUCH

Take one of the most spectacular settings in the world, add one of the greatest golf course designers on the planet, and what do you get? A masterpiece, a showpiece, and The Kinloch Club centerpiece. Subtle to dramatic elevation changes, towering poplar and pine trees, and breathtaking views of Lake Taupo and grass-blanketed mountains are just a few of the awesome features that distinguish what Jack Nicklaus has weaved into a spectacular layout. Kinloch will be every bit a links-style experience, with naturally rolling contours mixed with the openness and long views of this stunning site. Blend in the constantly changing elements of New Zealand, and Kinloch will provide a taste of golf played in Scotland a century ago. Kinloch will be the total expression of the most accomplished golf mind in history, and an experience any player will always remember.
